

Home – School Compact

Name _____ Date _____

Students are more likely to do well in school when they work hard and when they have the support of their home and school working together. In an effort to support each other for the good of our children, the commitments to help each other are outlined below:

The student will:

actively participate in the learning process; keep a positive attitude toward self, school and others; produce work that shows good effort to do well; and follow classroom and school rules.
